Vale Library Internet Guidelines

The Vale Library is pleased to provide information resources and connectivity through the internet. The internet offers access to many valuable sources of information, but all sites are not accurate, complete or current. Many sites may carry information that you may think is controversial or inappropriate. We encourage users to exercise good judgment & discretion appropriate to a public library. Those who do NOT may lose their Internet privileges. The Library is a public place so please be respectful of those around you when using the computer.

All users must have a current library card and a current signed Internet Guideline, no overdue books or fines and must check in at the front desk. After using the computer, it is your responsibility to pay for any printed copies you may have. You may sign into use the computer ONE TIME PER DAY, WITH A ONE HOUR MAXIMUM TIME LIMIT. Persons under 18 must be accompanied by parent/guardian or have a signed parent's permission on file. I have reviewed the Vale Library Internet Guidelines and agree to comply with them. I understand that many site on the internet that may be controversial or inappropriate and I will use my time on the Internet wisely and in an appropriate manner. I understand my or my child's computer/internet privileges can be revoked at anytime by Library staff. These guidelines are subject to change at any time.

I understand by signing this that I am responsible for returning all library material on time and in good condition. I also understand that if my account becomes delinquent (overdue fines, damage or lost items) it may be turned in for collections (if prior arrangements are not make with the Library) and agree to pay all collection costs required to settle this account including attorney fees and court costs.
